Evinces Great Interest In Outcome of the Third Party

(By ALBERT F. BAENZIGER)
COLUMBUS, July 13.—The question of whether William Jennings Bryan and his following will ultimately support the Democratic ticket was the one subject that occupied most of the attention in the conferences held here yesterday between Governor James M.
Cox, Democratic presidential nominee, secretary Franklin D. Roosevelt, his running mate and Judge Timothy T.
Ansberry, of Washington, Governor Cox's political advisor.

He has learned that the Commoner sent a personal message of well wishes to the vice-presidential candidate thru a former secretary telling him he was glad he received the nomination. No word has yet been received from him by Governor Cox.
Secretary Roosevelt admitted getting the message but refused to comment on its political significance. The candidates expressed themselves as particularly pleased with the harmony outlook in the party. The telegrams of congratulation from Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, who was unseated in the convention and Thomas Watson, of Georgia, assure the support of these factions and if Mr. Bryan and his followers could be whipped into line a united Democracy would start the campaign.

COX IS INTERESTED
For the first time Governor Cox showed an interest in the third party movement in Chicago. He asked if the balloting would commence today and who the possible candidates would be. His main point of interest was disclosed by later questions as to whether it was believed the third party would be supported by the non-partisan league. Comment was offered on the fact that chairman Henry McCurdy was formerly an official of the league and because of his connections would be able to get this following.

The league of nations will be the dominating issue of the campaign according to secretary Roosevelt. He stated that during his return trip he positively learned the west was strong for the league, and that the Republican Mayor of Glenwood Springs, Colorado, publicly announced he would support the Democratic ticket because he feared a Republican victory would mean no league at all which was our only hope in preventing future wars.

Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, prominent suffrage leader of New York and McAdoo supporter in the convention, spent considerable time with the candidates here yesterday and it is expected she will take an active part on an executive committee in the campaign.

ED. MOORE ILL
Ed. H. Moore, Governor Cox's convention manager is suffering from a nervous breakdown in San Francisco.
A message to the candidate from Wilbur W. Marsh stated Mr. Moore was under the care of a nurse and no visitors were permitted to see him.
Gov. Cox immediately dispatched word of consolation, asking to be kept closely advised as to his condition. Mr.
Moore is looked upon as the next chairman of the Democratic national committee.

The Governor announced he expected to be kept busy all day today taking care of the accumulation of office business at the state house. Returning delegates from San Francisco are making Columbus their mecca on the way home and the candidate tries to give each a little time.

PIKE, WEIGHT 35LBS

Emmett Frye, 240 south Sixth-st., while fishing near Mohawk Monday afternoon landed a huge pike, weighing 35 pounds. The muskellunge gave Frye a hard fight before he was landed safe on shore. Frye was overjoyed to land the big fish and said it had not been for the aid of other fishermen he would probably have lost out.

Fred Timmons addressed the memnoonday luncheon at the Country club.

Mr. Timmons talked on the good features of a municipal swimming pool, and brot out the fact that it was high time that Coshocton should have a swimming pool.

It is understood that the city council and the mayor are working on the proposition of a swimming pool, and this matter will probably be brot up at the next council meeting.

Vocal and instrumental music was furnished at the meeting by Miss Louise Baughman and Mrs. Ed A.
Crawford.

HUSBAND AND WIFE INSTANTLY KILLED

CANTON, O., July 13.—Elwood Robinson, aged 61, and his wife, aged 58, of Marlboro, ten miles north of this city, were instantly killed at noon yesterday when they were struck by the Cleveland-Pittsburgh flyer at Drayer's crossing, four miles north of Alliance. The automobile in which they were riding was carried one-fourth of a mile and was completely demolished.

Name of New Party and Platform Still in Doubt
—Labor Men Take Bull
by Horns and Forty-Eighers Come Across.

CHICAGO, July 13.—After two days of bickering and negotiating between the minor political parties now in Chicago the way was cleared here shortly before noon for the birth of a united third party, probably tonight.

A joint convention embracing the Committee of Forty Eight, the American labor party, the single tax party and representatives of the non-partisan league and smaller organization probably will be held tonight at which candidates for president and vice president will be nominated and a platform adopted.

Agreement to meet in a joint convention was made with the name of the new party and platform still in doubt. These will be settled later.

The instrument thru which the amalgamation as effected was found after a morning of discussion during which it appeared several times that the coalition was doomed to failure.

The labor party at its convention in Carmen's hall took the bull by the horns finally and voted to go ahead and nominate a candidate for president at 8 30 o'clock tonight regardless of everything. Then at the Morrison Hotel where the convention of the Forty Eighters was in progress, H. P.
Wilkie of Maryland, as chairman of the committee on political procedure, brot in report stating:

"The labor party of the United States and the committee of Forty Eight shall unite in a new political party."

Put to a vote, Wilkie's report was unanimously adopted, and a committee was immediately appointed to notify the labor wing of the action and to arrange the details. The committee was termed "the midwife."

The Wilkie report was in the form of a resolution which was prepared for the action of both conventions.

It further provided:
"The new party's organization shall confine its activities during 1920 to the election of a president, vice president and members of both houses of congress."

The basis for control of the new party shall be a national committee composed of three members from each state, at least one of whom shall be a woman. This national committee shall select an executive committee of nine, which committee

NEW YORKERS ENJOY THRILL OF GHASTLY DOUBLE MURDER NEAR FASHIONABLE SUMMER COLONY

Wife of Rich Broker and Her Chauffeur Found by Farmer on Lonely Road—Pistol Lying Between Their Bodies.

NEW LONDON, CONN., July 13.—
The tragic death by shooting of Mrs.
Arthur De Cordova, wife of a New York broker, and her chauffeur, Bernard Geissler, on a lonely motor road near Stonington early today, has shocked the residents of the fashionable summer colony of New Yorkers here and has given the authorities one of the most baffling crimes they have had to solve in years.

Their bodies sprawled in the road,
Mrs. De Cordova and the chauffeur were found by James F. Brown, a farmer of North Stonington. Mrs. De Cordova was dead. Geissler was still alive but unconscious. He was rushed to a hospital here but died early this morning without regaining consciousness.

Between the bodies when found lay an army pistol. Mrs. De Cordova had been shot thru the heart and apparently had died instantly. Geissler's body was hanging across a fence with bullet wounds in his head.

Mrs. De Cordova and Geissler are said to have left Griswold, near here, yesterday afternoon in a three-passenger sport model car. The De Cordo-vas came to Griswold on July 1.

Arthur De Cordova, the husband returned to New York yesterday.
Late last evening Brown, the farmer, heard several shots and upon investigating found the bodies of Mrs.
De Cordova and the chauffeur.

Geissler, who was 31 years old and had a wife in New York, had been in the employ of the De Cordovas for five years. Relatives and friends of the De Cordova family today could shed no light on the tragedy or ascribe any motive for it. Prosecutor B. H. Hewitt of New London said early today that he is not satisfied with the theory that Geissler shot Mrs.
De Cordova and then turned his weapon upon himself and declared he will conduct a vigorous investigation.
A purse containing $80 in money which Mrs. De Cordova had with her was untouched.

Robbins and Brown, After Confab, Put Their O. K.
On Sen. Harding's Political Views

(By A. O. HAYWARD)
MARION, O., July 13.—Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican nominee, conferred this morning with congressman Nicholas Longworth, of Cincinnati, and then went into retirement to work uninterruptedly on his acceptance speech.

The Senator announced that he could give no more time to conference until after he has completed the draft of his speech which he is preparing with the greatest care. All his time yesterday was devoted to conferences with his many callers.

Congressman Longworth and Mrs.
Longworth, who was Alice Roosevelt, daughter of the late Col. Roosevelt, were house guests of Senator and Mrs. Harding last night. The discussion between the Senator and Nick Longworth covered national as well as Ohio state politics. Longworth is a candidate for the speakership of the national house of representatives.

Raymond Robbins, of Chicago, and Walter F. Brown, of Ohio, leaders in the "Bull Moose" campaign of 1916 and prominent progressives, were in conference with Senator Harding thruout the afternoon yesterday. Robbins discussed with the Senator labor and progressive legislation.

ROBBINS SATISFIED

"We had a satisfactory conference," he said at its conclusion. "I will support the Republican ticket and take the stump for it if asked. The Senator and I are in substantial agreement. From what I hear the overwhelming number of progressives will go to the Republican ticket. No one can control the labor vote as a mass.
It cannot be controlled by a third party ticket. We must make good on liberty under law. There is a class cleavage in Europe. There is a class group looking to make good in this country. The next four years will determine whether we shall go forward with our free institutions, free religion, free speech and free economic conditions, or whether we shall go backward."

John R. Althorn, the Providence editor, who was a caller on the Senator approved the front porch campaign.
"A good show window in one town is better than a soap box show all over the country," he said. It is his opinion that "the campaign should start the last week in October and be a whirlwind finish."

HARDING DISAPPOINTED

Commenting on a statement by Gov.
Cox, the Democratic nominee, that if elected he would put a real farmer at the head of the department of agriculture, Senator Harding observed that was one reform in Government the Republican party would not have to make. "For sixteen years, under three Republican administrations, we had as secretary of agriculture James Wilson, a real farmer from a real farm. Had the great department been maintained and carried forward under the Republican ideals of usefulness, half our problems of high cost of living would have been solved for us in advance. The Republican party will go on developing the department for the service of real farms and farmers."

Senator Harding was disappointed that Governor Clement, of Vermont, had decided that he could not convene the Vermont legislature in extraordinary session to ratify the suffrage amendment. "I had hoped that he would do it," said the Senator.

FUNERAL SERVICES
FOR MRS. JOHNSTON
WEDNESDAY AT 2:30

Funeral services for Mrs. Daniel Johnston, who died suddenly at her home on north Sixth st. will be held at the late home Wednesday afternoon at 2 30 in charge of the Rev.
John I. Wean, pastor of the Grace M.
E. church. The services will be brief, and the body will be placed in a vault at Oak Ridge cemetery until probably Sunday, awaiting the arrival of the mother and sister, Mrs. R. M. Temple and Miss Elma Temple from Los Angeles, who are expected Saturday.

The funeral services will be held at the home probably Sunday. Mrs. O.
M. Tigner, a sister, was expected to arrive from Boston Tuesday. A brother, Dr. R. M. Temple of Columbus, came Monday.

MINERS DRIFTING
BACK TO PLACES

A few of the miners of this county, who were out of work for some time, present wage scale of $6. per day, have returned to work. The day men including the dumpers, motormen and others quit work on account of the present scale. The miners have been out of work for the past several days, asking for a daily wage of $7. per day.
The operators refused to grant the advance claiming that they and miners some time ago entered into an agreement by which the day men were to work for two years, ending April 1922, for the present wage scale.

The operators claim that the miners have forfeited the contract.
A meeting was held at the City hall Saturday and Monday afternoons by the day men, without results. A meeting by the miners was called at the City hall Tuesday afternoon.

GERMANS WIN IN VOTE

BERLIN, July 13.—The Germans were entirely successful in the balloting in the Polish-German plebiscite area of Prussia on Sunday according to final returns compiled at Marlenwerder and telegraphed here today. The returns based on nationality were:
East Prussia—German 98 per cent;
Polish 2 per cent.
West Prussia—German 92 per cent; Polish 8 per cent.

Upon the request made by the city council Monday night, Service Director Ray S. Blinn has agreed to prepare a statement of why he has made such a large increase in the water rates, effective October 1. The statement is to be submitted to the council at the next meeting July 26 and is then to be presented to the public, in view of the fact that many citizens have expressed criticism of the service director's action in raising the rates.

President Norris brot the matter before council near the close of the two hour session Monday night. He said that there had been a tremendous amount of criticism and that he thot an explanation was due to the public. He said he felt that the criticism may to a large extent be due to a misunderstanding and that there should be some enlightenment as to the reasons for the increased rates.
He said there is one feature with which many people are unfamiliar; that before the new pump was purchased there was a large surplus and that this surplus was used in the purchase of the pump. He said he believed there should be a detailed statement as to why the sprinkling rate, for instance, is being raised from $2 to $5.

Councilman W. R. Davis said many people have the impression that the water works is self sustaining and that the surplus from the water works is being used for some other purpose. President Norris said one man spoke to him in an abusive way and said he didn't see why council had raised the rates. Mr. Norris said he told the man that council didn't do it but that it was the service department and that no one but the utilities commission can revoke the rates. Councilman Walter Fitch asked if it was necessary to raise the rates $8 per year for each consumer.
Mr. Norris said this was just what many others are asking and suggested that the service director prepare figures to show why the increase is being asked and that the surplus was used for a legitimate purpose. Councilman Popham said a citizen had asked him what had become of the $18,000 surplus in the water works fund and this citizen declared that he knew what became of it, that it was plain ordinary graft. President Norris said he told a man Monday that if there had been any grafting going on in the last five years he didn't get in on it. He said that he believed a clear explanation should be made as to the surplus on the part of the public has a tendency to prevent council from receiving the cooperation of the public in every way.

City Solicitor Geo. D. Klein said he and Mr. Blinn have had a couple of 'hitches' concerning the water works rates. He said he was speaking as a private citizen and not as an official. Mr. Klein said that insofar as charges of graft are concerned he believed the reports of the state examiners will show where the money went and that he did not think it necessary for any further statement as to what the former surplus was used for as the inspectors' reports show this but that he did believe

BELGIAN OFFICER
GERMAN DELEGATE

SPA, July 13.—An attack upon members of the German delegation attending the Spa conference was averted today when the Teutons carried out a strategic retreat and sped away in motor cars. The trouble began when a Belgian officer, whose treatment in a German prison camp during the war still rankled in his mind, got into an argument with a German attached to the Teuton delegation. The Belgian finally struck the German with his fist. About a score of Germans who had come into Spa from the German headquarters on the outskirts of Spa interfered.
A crowd gathered and was menacing the Germans with attack when the latter fled down a side street to their waiting motor cars and disappeared.

No arrests were made nor did the authorities seek the names of those involved.

FELL DOWN STAIRS ON TWO OCCASIONS

Suffered from Vertigo, Dizzy Spells, and a General Lazy Liver. Had to Support Her Back with a Pillow on Account of Backaches. Declares Her Troubles were Relieved by Dreo.

"I suffered so from dizzy spells and vertigo that I almost fell down stairs on two occasions. My back ached so bad that I had to prop a pillow or cushion against it when I sat down."

are the words of a well known lady—Mrs. S. D. Campbell of 205 N. Elizabeth St., Lima, O.

"Several of my friends were so highly pleased with Dreo, they persuaded me to take it, and I honestly believe it has been my salvation. I feel like an entirely different person. I lost my appetite and began to get into a highly serious run-down condition, and got so I didn't even want to look at anything to eat, for the smell and green the sight of cooking made me sick. To get a good night's rest was simply out of the question, and I would lie awake and roll and toss until morning, and then would feel more tired than when I went to bed the night before. I managed to keep on my feet, but many a day it would have felt good to have gone to bed. I was almost a nervous wreck, without energy or strength. Sometimes I felt as though I would as soon be dead as alive. As I have said, several of my friends kept after me to try Dreo, so I finally consented, and I honestly think it was the only thing that saved me. I am feeling strong and well again and sleep like a rock, and can hardly get enough to eat. My nervousness has entirely disappeared; also the constipation. Dreo is a wonderful medicine and every one should know about it."

PESKY BED BUGS MONEY TO LEND ON EASY TERMS

(Pesky Devils Quietus) P. D. Q. is a new chemical that puts the everlasting to the Pesky bedbugs, roaches, fleas, ants and cockroaches—impossible for the pesky devils to exist where P. D. Q. is used.

Recommendations of Hotels, Hospitals, Railroad Companies, and other public institutions are a guarantee to the public that the safest, quickest and most economical way of ridding the pesky insects is by the use of P. D. Q. as this chemical kills the eggs as well as the live ones, and will not injure the clothing.

A 56c package makes a full quart, enough to kill a million bedbugs, roaches, fleas or cockroaches—and also contains a patent sprout to get the egg nests in the hard to get-at places, and saves juice.

Special Hospital size 25c makes five gallons—contains three sprouts—supplied by druggists or sent prepaid upon receipt of price, either size, by the Owl Chemical Co., Terre Haute, Ind.—never needed.

Baby Girl Wins 3 First Prizes

Parents of Louisiana's "Champion Baby" raised her on Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

THERE is always a good deal of sickness in the summer months, due to the hot weather. The heat is especially severe on babies and children, and often it interferes with their development and growth. They lose appetite, pass restless nights, suffer from indigestion, and finally constipation. In the hot Southern States mothers give a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, at the first symptom of constipation. This formula is known to druggists as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and they have sold it under that name for a quarter of a century. It is now the sole medicinal reliance in thousands of families.

Little Dorothy Boylan knows what real hot weather is ten months of the year. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Boylan, and lives at 216 North Alexander St., in New Orleans. She has won three successive first prizes as the "Grand Champion Baby of Louisiana," and her parents say the only medicine they have ever given her is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It has kept her healthy and built her up, and helped make it possible, they write, for Dorothy to be a prize-winning baby. You can obtain a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drug store. You will find it pleasant to take, and it does not gripe or weaken.

DOROTHY BOYLAN
Three of 1919, 1920, and 1921

FREE

Millions of people of all ages suffer from occasional or chronic constipation. Let them send name and address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 512 Washington Street, Monticello, Ill., for a free sample bottle of his wonderful Syrup Pepsin. 8 million bottles were bought at drug stores last year, the largest sale in the world.

LABOR HAS MADE UP ITS MIND ON THE CANDIDATES

COLUMBUS, July 12.—Organized labor's attitude toward state and congressional political candidates throughout Ohio has been determined.

Publicity, however, will not be given until all questionnaires sent to candidates are returned and the central bodies of the Ohio Federation of Labor have approved the report made by the sub-committee of the executive board which compiled the record of the candidates.

The executive board includes John Moore, Columbus, president; John J. Quinlivan, vice president; T. J. Donnelly, Columbus, secretary; Grant Fink, Dayton; John J. Owens, Cleveland; John J. Graney, Youngstown; Wm. M. Morgan, Newark and Albert Haubrock, Cincinnati.

President Moore will tour Ohio and will visit all central bodies, informing the union workers as to the records of the various candidates.

SOLUTION OF THE ELWELL CRIME IS STILL LOOKED FOR

NEW YORK, July 12.—The Elwell murder mystery has entered its second month today apparently as far from solution as at the time the famous turfman and Don Vivante was found slain in his West 70th street home early on the morning of June 11.

Altho federal, state and municipal authorities, scores of private detectives and numerous independent investigators have been constantly at work on the case, a tangled and conflicting mass of clues has been the only result of their labors. No arrest has been made and authorities frankly admit that no arrests are imminent. Those directing the various investigations, however, assert that they are following lines of inquiry that they are hopeful will produce positive results.

MOTIVE OF WIFE SLAYER WAS LOVE FOR YOUNG GIRL

CHICAGO, July 12.—The real motive of Carl Wanderer, former army lieutenant, in plotting the slaying of his wife, his unborn child and a derelict of the streets he hired to pose as a highwayman was declared by the police today to have been the infatuation of Wanderer for Julia Schmitt, a sixteen year old girl.

Evidence given the police by the Chicago Herald and Examiner, including a love letter written to the girl after Wanderer had consummated his double crime, showed that he had been making love to her for several months, posing as an unmarried man.

In the letter written after the slaying, Wanderer invited Julia to keep a clandestine appointment with him, adding:

"The reason I do not call at your house is that people would talk about me. Julia, put yourself in my shoes and see if I am not right."

In a statement made to the police Julia Schmitt admitted a friendship with Wanderer but said she had been much hurt on learning thru newspaper stories of the murder, that he was a married man. She accepted his attention afterward, however, going to an amusement park with him on one occasion.

The authorities are continuing their efforts to identify the supposed robber slain by Wanderer. A report that he was John J. Maloney, a former convict of Pontiac, R. I., was disproved today. Detectives are attempting to elench a partial identification of the body as that of Al Watson, a former Canadian soldier and the son of a New York turfman.

SUFFRAGE GETS TURNDOWN FROM VERMONT'S GOV.

BOSTON, July 12.—Governor Clement of Vermont has refused to call a special session of the legislature to ratify the federal suffrage amendment, according to word received at the headquarters of the National Woman's party this afternoon. Miss Alice Paul, chairman of the party's publicity committee, said the governor's action was a direct violation of the pledge made by the Republican party at the Chicago convention and of those made by Senator Harding, Republican presidential nominee. Miss Paul served notice that the women would fight Governor Clement's decision. She said a large delegation of women would call on Senator Harding on July 22 and make formal protest.

M'QUEEN WORKS ON BARREN WASTES OF NORTHERN MICHIGAN

Having brot "Rigby Farm" from worthless clay to a high point of production Jacob McQueen, Baltic soil wizard is directing his attention to reclaiming waste pine lands in Michigan. He has returned from the barren expanse where he inspected the results of the application of his legumes according to his most modern approved methods of farming. The results were highly gratifying. On one tract of land, which cost the experimenter $5, the crops this season have been sold for more than $700. Indications are that McQueen will develop and demonstrate a method of reclaiming thousands of acres of land that has hitherto been considered worthless.

IN MEMORY OF MRS. LETHA BANTUM

Born in a world of sorrow,
Of sadness, grief and pain
Our friends are taken from us.
But we shall meet again.

Think not of Letha lying Today beneath the sod.
For she was a rose without thorns Transplanted to the garden of God.

We wonder why she was taken From us so early in life.
Our homes are so vacant without her
As sister, daughter and wife.

Her life was like the snow flake—
Left a mark but not a stain.
Now she wears a crown in glory
Where she lives and shines again.

Dear, husband, father and mother
And little sister, too, Letha is with the angels Awaiting there for you.

Some day when Jesus calls us
And the trials of life are o'er,
We shall safely cross the water
And reach the other shore.

Happy will be the meeting—
For the sorrows of earth will be past And we shall again be united In our Father's home at last.

—Mrs. R. O. Gillis,

A Reprieve for Veteran "Spitballers" Is Likely

The new baseball rules have now received a thoro trial, and it is safe to predict that a few of them will be tossed in the ashcan next winter. The American League has already returned to the old system of judging hits over outfield barriers fair or foul according to where the ball is last seen by the umpire. The intentional pass regulations are not being enforced, and a strong reaction has set in against the proposed elimination of "spitball" pitchers from the major leagues.

The "spitball," like old John Barleycorn, will die a natural death if allotted a reasonable time to expire. The minor leagues are not developing this type of pitchers any more because the "spitter" is forbidden in most of these organizations, and the young pitchers know they have no future in the major leagues if they stick to freak deliveries.

There is a growing sentiment among big league club owners, however, against casting out all "spitball" pitchers next season. Every American League club has at least one of these pitchers and the National harbors several. The elimination of all these pitchers in one season is therefore considered an unnecessary sacrifice of property rights.

Strict enforcement of the rules against "shine ball" pitching and the "doctoring" of baseballs have hampered pitchers to such an extent that batters are the featured performers this season. Even the arrival of hot weather has not appreciably decreased the hitting or improved the pitching. It is actually a relief to see a "spitballer" bob up now and then to curb the wielders of mighty maces.

A majority of the "certified spitballers" now toiling in the major leagues are veterans who developed the delivery to hang on in fast company. At the most they have only a few seasons to go. It seems unfair to suddenly deprive them of their means of livelihood. For these reasons a majority of the club owners should vote to retain them as long as they can hold the pace.

It will be no easy matter for the American League to replace in one season such clever pitchers as Coveleskie, Quinn, Shocker, Dauss, Sothern and Russell, or for the National League to recover from the loss of Doak, Goodwin, Douglas, Hendrix, Fillingim, Mitchell, Grimes and Fisher.

Club owners, who have discussed this prospect informally, agree that these men should be permitted to yield gracefully to time, and it is almost certain that they will be the objects of special legislation next winter.

SAILORS REFUSE TO BE DELOUSED

NEW YORK, July 12.—Army and navy authorities and Boston police were appealed to this afternoon to suppress a "mutiny" of 100 sailors aboard the White Star liner Cretic. They refuse to go to Gallup's Island for disinfecting baths. The seamen perform their usual duties, but when lighters are brot alongside and orders given to get aboard the lighters for baths derisive hoots answer the commands.

Boston police decided to keep out on the ground the mutiny was passive. Army and naval authorities took the appeals under advisement.

The ship arrived free from disease, but without a clean bill of health owing to disputes between American doctors and Italian port officials at Naples.

The Cretic's crew declare they won't be the victims of government "red tape."

Campaign Clap-Trap

FOR the next four months we may expect to hear a lot of political clap-trap from campaign orators in both parties about the high cost of living, "protection for the farmer," keeping the country boys on the farm and similar sophistry, all calculated to "line up the farmer vote."

These same political spellbinders will howl themselves hoarse for "more production on the farm" and "cheaper living costs" for city populations. What the campaign orators will deliver along these lines may be judged by the bunk contained in the platforms of the two parties. Yet it may be set down as a certainty now that, no matter which party succeeds at the polls next fall, neither will honestly propose any new legislation nor the repeal of any of the old laws which are responsible for existing conditions.

For years it has been a pet scheme of politicians in both parties whenever they wanted to hoodwink the farmers or laborers in industrial centers, to propose some new law for their ostensible benefit. Not a law of this kind on either state or federal statute books can today be pointed to by either party that has ever afforded an iota's relief to farmer or city toiler. Especially in the case of the farmer has this process been kept up so long that the profit has all been taken out of farming and the farmers have left for the cities—where their profits have already gone. Neither party platform has the slightest suggestion of relief for this condition, the gravest which confronts the American people. And as both platforms are barren of ideas along this line, so will both campaigns be equally hopeless in affording real relief.

With great unction the solemn campaign orators will condole with the farmers and in mournful terms portray their sympathy for their hard lot. It remains to be seen if the farmers will fall for their blandishments now as they have in the past. But it may be set down in advance that not a public speaker in either party will propose any real, fundamental relief measure for the agricultural classes.

Regardless of which party rides into power on the November tide of ballots, the farmer and labor in general will be treated to the same old promises of legislative relief. As a matter of fact it is not MORE legislation, but less; it is not the enactment of NEW LAWS, but the repeal of a host of old ones which have been foisted on the backs of the toilers by fake lawmakers in both parties that is responsible for the condition of agriculture, and labor in general today.

Take the case of typical farm experiences in every community in the land. Side by side along a country highway are two dilapidated farm properties, inherently of the same value. A live, enterprising, hard-working farmer buys one of them. He restores it thru a course of years to a state of high productivity. The other farm is permitted by its absentee owner to remain in the same condition, or lapse into a worse.

What is the attitude of every community in America toward these two farmers? The State renders the same service to both. It maintains the roadway for both. It maintains the same local and township high school. It affords both tracts of land the same legal security. Every service that the public gives the well improved farm it gives to the briar patch.

Yet when the assessor passes the hat to secure funds with which to maintain public revenues what happens? It takes many times more from the good farmer than it does from the slovenly farmer. The former has tiled and fenced his land at a cost of many hundreds, perhaps thousands of dollars. He has built a fine barn, a handsome dwelling for his family. He has built corncribs and silos and clean, warm sheds for his stock of all kinds. Perhaps his hog pen is newer and more sanitary than the dwelling house on the neglected farm. He paints his buildings. He keeps them in the best of repair. His lawns are mowed and everything about his premises are spick and span.

And for every last one of the above useful acts he is penalized by the State, just as a thief or vagrant is fined for his theft or vagrancy. His absentee neighbor, on the other hand, is rewarded for letting his farm go to weeds and briars. The tax collector looks his premises over, mournfully shakes his head and passes the place by.

And this typical instance is true in cities as well as in the country. INSTEAD OF COLLECTING TAXES FOR WHAT IT DOES FOR MEN, IT IS THE FIXED POLICY OF THE STATE TO TAX MEN FOR WHAT THEY DO FOR THEMSELVES.

In the basic idea contained in the above homely illustration, in the wrong that is involved in it, a wrong that goes infinitely further than a mere cursory reading of the above indicates, is the fundamental cause of the high cost of living today. Studied comprehensively it will explain practically all the other basic economic ills that are filling the minds of our people with discontent, that are driving capital out of legitimate business, that are increasing the abnormal wealth of the privileged classes and further penalizing honest, competitive capital and labor.

In short, the fundamental wrong in America today can be summed up in the words, IDLE LAND, and its corollary, NATURAL RESOURCES HELD OUT OF USE AGAINST THE NEEDS OF AN EVER-INCREASING POPULATION.

What is it that lies between the farmer and his market? IDLE LAND. Consumers in the big cities of the east are buying wheat and potatoes raised a thousand miles north of them, almost under the Arctic circle, and their apples and peaches raised 2,500 miles to the west with all the consequent ruinous charges for transportation which makes the price prohibitive to the poor and milks the producer of his legitimate profits, yet lying against the very corporate limits of New York, Philadelphia and scores of cities similarly situated are thousands of acres of fine farmland held out of use in order that the owner may reap a speculative profit when population pushes further against the means of subsistence.

What is it that forces workmen in the city to live so far from their work? IDLE LAND. What is the most conspicuous thing to be seen on entering any city? IDLE LAND. What is the only form of property that paid no war tax? IDLE LAND. What is it that enables speculators to grow rich without working? IDLE LAND. What is it that drives settlers long distances from civilization to find a home? IDLE LAND.

What must be stricken from both urban and rural territory if we would have efficient industry, contented workers and a distribution of wealth based on the worker's actual share in production? IDLE LAND.

How can idle land be forced into use and all land deprived of its speculative value? By taxing all land, idle and improved, at its exact value and exempting from taxation the product of every man's labor.

Do this and automatically, almost as if by magic, the strife between capital and labor will cease, the cost of living will be adjusted equitably to income and the vast, unearned fortunes built up on PRIVILEGE and its twin iniquity, MONOPOLY, will forever disappear.

And any campaign orator who prates about justice and equality and is not willing to subscribe to the above, who denies that THE LAND QUESTION is the supreme issue of the hour, is more interested in an office for himself than he is about justice for the farming and laboring classes.

New York Day-By-Day

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, July 13.—The fire escapes in the tenement districts are now bulging with balloon like bedding. Hokey-pokey ice cream men are reaping their harvest of pennies. The evening arrival of the street washers is hailed with rare enthusiasm. Sweltering humid nights have come to the East Side. The pungent smell of sun on asphalt clings all thru the long torrid evenings.

Dawn reveals row after row of naked babies, half clad men and women who have lost all sense of modesty in common suffering. Old men sit out at the curb in pillowed chairs all night long fanning until they nod from sheer exhaustion. Children of 9 and 10 run about clad only in the familiar loin cloths of the South Sea savages.

There are now childish whoops in the slums in hot weather. A languor effects the young and old. The carols of the hurdy-gurdy fall on unheeding ears. Tony, the ice man, in his dank cellar hovel is the tenement summer idol. For Tony may press his own wares to a heated brow and find success. And no wonder Tony is such an idol for in the winter he sells coal by the bucket.

Coal and ice are slum luxuries. The slum folk look forward to the little bit of heaven that comes now and then—charity trips to Coney Island. It gives them something to talk about the rest of the season. If little Maggie has been to the seashore twice in a season she is regarded with the same light of admiration that is bestowed upon the wearer of a million dollar necklace on Fifth Avenue. It is something to brag about.

All the heads are closely clipped. It costs a dime to have the hair closely clipped at The Clippers run by an enterprising young Italian on Delancey Street. When the first hot days come a line forms several blocks long and even some of the girls sacrifice their curls to keep cool.

They caught Chick-a-dee the other day on a Broadway subway express train. He had while reading a newspaper lifted a pearl stick pin from a Wall Street magnate and he would have been safe had it not happened that a Central Office man was at his side. Chick-a-dee is the only Chinese pickpocket known in police annals. Just as old Horso and Wagon was the only known Chinese vagrant so was Chick-a-dee alone of his race to become skilled as a subway dip.

Sometimes popular tunes like Top-sy just grow. There is one called "Mystery." The origin of the song is a mystery. It started as a stray tune of a New York dance orchestra. It grew into a real melody and words were written for it. Now all the singers and orchestras along the Great White Way play it. Even Art Hickman has picked it up. Its popularity grows—and the author will probably never be known.

The apartment court troubadours have arrived for the summer. In the winter like the birds they fly south. But when spring comes they drift back to town. There is one that comes annually to our neighborhood. He is a sad faced fellow with dirty gray hair and across his shoulders is a harp. He plucks away at the classics and the modern jazz furnishing nothing more musical than caterwauls by night. But he always gets his shower of small coins. He told me his story the other day. He once played in an orchestra when Jenny Lind sang. But drink got him and he became a veritable modern minstrel. Somewhere he left a wife and four children. "I always look up at windows expecting perhaps to see some of them," he said. And he has visited almost every city of importance in America.

CLOWS WIN A HOTLY PLAYED GAME FROM THE GLASS COMPANY

The Glass factory lost first place Monday evening when they were defeated by the J B Clow company on the Industrial league diamond by the score of 3 to 1. The game was a close finish and the Glass company men played real ball to hold first position.

The Clows took the bat in the first inning and scored two runs and five bingles off of Lew Payne right in the start. The Glass factory team was helpless until the fourth inning when Lew Payne made the only run the Glass company forced.

Luck was with the Clowville nine. They succeeded in putting another run over in the first of the third inning. Clark, the Clowville slapper, pitched airtight ball during the fore part of the game and the Glass company young secured 8 hits during the whole game.

Lew Payne was hit rather hard the first four innings, but redeemed himself before the finish of the seven frames.

Neither of the teams scored after the fourth inning.
The Pottery team now holds first place with one game to the good over the Glass factory. The Pottery was defeated by the Glass house several days ago and this enabled the Glass factory to tie them for first place.

The Glass factory has won seven games and lost two, while the Pottery has won seven games and lost one.

Henry Clarke, the center fielder for the Clowville nine, was the star of the game. He made several feature catches in right, center and left fields, while covering all fields in one game. He caught many of the line drive hot from the bats of the Glass factory team, that would have gone for runs. Besides playing a good

"It's a poor sport that is not worth the candle!" is from George Herbert's "Jacula Prudentum," a collection of proverbs dated 1651, which had appeared in a shorter form as "Outlandish Proverbs" in 1640.

RUSSIANS TAKE MINSK

LONDON, July 13.—The Russians have occupied the important city of Minsk on the northern end of the Russo-Polish battle front, according to a Soviet communique wirelessly from Moscow today. Minsk is about 285 miles northeast of Warsaw. It lies at the junction of two strategic railway lines, one of which runs from Moscow to Warsaw.

WALT MASON THE BAD RECORD

The hens I stole long years ago have ruined my career, for everywhere I chance to go, their phantoms reappear. Oh, men forget the things I've done, of which I may be proud, and they ignore the fame I've won competing with the crowd. They spread the tale with tongues and pens, send it from group to group. "This is the man who stole the hens from Widow Whitesmith's coop." A hundred widows I have helped when they were out of luck, and hungry orphans, when they yelped, from me could draw a buck. I've made a point of being good, for one sin to atone, but all in vain, my crime has stood triumphant and alone. The weary years have slipped away, in units and in tens, and still I hear my neighbors say, "He swiped a widow's hens." Some day a monument will rise above my pulseless breast; the legend on it, I surmise, will say I've joined the blest; but men will say that granite gaze and idly stroke their wens, and say, "How hollow is such praise! He pinched a widow's hens."

PEOPLE'S FORUM

Editor The Tribune:
SUGAR AT 30 CENTS?

It is just beginning to be whispered that while nearly all the great countries of the world supplied part of their own sugar, and looked to the West Indies, Java, and Hawaii, for additional supplies, it was the extensive beet fields of Germany and Austria turning out an enormous excess beyond their own consumption that kept the price down here.

This excess of German sugar ever ready to pour into our country as soon as the price advanced far enough for it to climb the tariff wall compelled sugar from other sources to keep within bounds or meet a waiting rival.

This last winter the planters in Jamaica were getting four times what they considered a reasonable price! No wonder the price of sugar has gone skyward! Cuban sugar now selling there for 20 cents a pound could have been hot last August by our government for 6 1/2 cents a pound, but was not, and now we see the result in the prices we are paying. The reason the price did not mount higher before was because our government bot the Cuban crop of 1918, the equalization board paying 3 1/2 cents a pound for it. When the present crop is all milled there will be more millionaires in Cuba per capita than anywhere else in the world, it is said. Sugar brokers bidding against each other, drove the price up and also created the impression there was a shortage, driving it still higher. Now we are told three or four men are holding the sugar—tho there is plenty of it—to force the price still higher.

We heard frantic cries of "unlawful confiscation of property," when the prospect of prohibition loomed on the horizon; it never materialized, however. Saloons and breweries were converted to other uses. Slight changes, entailing insignificant expense, have converted most of the breweries into ice cream, powdered sugar or evaporated milk factories, or ice and cold storage plants, making more money and employing more men. But some of them are helping out the sugar shortage by making malt syrup. The process has been so improved the product finds a ready market; in fact they can supply but a small part of the demand. This malt syrup averages 60 to 80 per cent sweet, looks like maple syrup, but tastes like honey. A special process renders it white, which makes it suited to candy and ice cream making. It is better in some ways for candy making than sugar, and is much cheaper. Corn, barley and potatoes are used, and the first processes require no change in the brewery machinery, only the addition of evaporating pans. It is acceptable on the table as well as in cooking and baking. No chemicals are used in its manufacture so it conforms to the pure food laws.

The sale of candy has increased to such an extent since the coming of prohibition, as there has been more money for legitimate luxuries (it is not the old soaks who are buying it as you can see by looking at the purchasers) that all this malt syrup that is being used by confectioners, and bakers helps by so much in bidding against the housewives for the limited sugar supply.

With bread and sugar at the frightful prices of today, and the planters are counting on at least five years more of enormous profits before the labor situation of Germany can admit German sugar again becoming a rival—it behooves the voters to cast their votes this year for dry congressmen. The vote has declared their determination to elect a wet congress—they have unlimited funds to draw upon—and then they will change the Volstead enforcement code, and beer and wine will again deluge the country. They say they will not establish the saloon again, but beer and wine will be sold at grocery and drug stores to men, women and children. Why should they not sell to children such a harmless product as their claim beer and wine to be! Crime, misery, and drunkenness will again flourish under the return of booze; whiskey too will have its turn, for who ever heard of the liquor business obeying the law?

Not only will we lose all the grain they will destroy or the sugar substitute we might have made from part of it, but our pitifully small supply of freight cars will again be used to haul empty bottles, cases and barrels as well as those filled with beer and wine, and also they will have had to transport all the raw material long distances to the breweries. Even now we have not sufficient cars to deliver the needed coal to certain factories and at some mines there is such a shortage the miners are actually suffering for food as they can work only one day a week.

A water famine was only a few days off in Chicago recently because of coal shortage, and Washington, D. C., had only enough coal to keep its lighting and power plant in operation for a few days. Fortunately enough coal was secured in time to avert these disasters, but what if it had been winter time? Do you wish to have the sugar, grain and coal shortage further decreased for the sake of beer and wine? If not, vote for and work for a dry congress this year. GEORGIA ROBERTSON.

IRISH RY. EMPLOYEES STAGE VAST STRIKE

LONDON, July 13.—A special trades union congress, representing practically all of the organized workers of the united kingdom assembled here today to define labor's attitude toward the strike of Irish railway men. It was reported that the conference would extend its original program for the meeting and discuss the allies' attitude toward the Russo-Polish war also.

The Irish railway employees went on strike rather than handle munitions consigned to British troops. The government failed to reach an agreement with the Irish strikers, who appealed to the organized workers of England to support them.

Leaders of the extremist faction of the coal miners expressed themselves in favor of direct and emphatic action. They proposed a resolution calling for a general strike unless the British government withdraws all of its troops from Ireland and ceases the production of munitions destined for Ireland and for the armed forces that are waging war against Russia.

It was pointed out that if the resolution were adopted by the congress it would be necessary for the various unions to ballot before any decisive action could be taken toward putting it into effect.

Leaders of the moderate faction predicted that any such resolution would be voted down. They declared that the 6,000,000 organized workers undoubtedly would veto a general strike which was designed for political ends.

"I am hopeful that no crisis will arise," declared J. H. Thomas, of the Railway Men's union, before the meeting opened.

OVER THE FENCE IS OUT AT DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

Auditorium at San Francisco, showing the picket fence.

San Francisco has built a picket fence around the Civic Auditorium, with but a small gate as entrance, so as to prevent such a mob as assembled in front of the convention hall in Chicago.

The fence has been subjected to considerable strain, but to date has served its purpose well.

Sometimes when you see stores offering discounts at this particular time it means nothing, as D. O. Thompson sells clothing for "less" money. We don't have to give discounts to comply with the "Fair Price Commission" of Ohio's new laws.

How much do you use your eyes?

If almost constantly, you ought to help them with glasses. You may not need glasses for distance at all, but if you are an office-worker, glasses especially made for you would relieve your eyes of much of the strain, and you might not feel so all-in at the end of the day. We make an examination of your eyes, and furnish the precise glasses you need for any purpose.

STATEMENT BY

"I think they're too high," said Mr. Klein. He said there are $8,000 worth of bonds to be taken care of but that the water works department has $1,500 due it and soon to be paid by the Coshocton Glass company and this would take care of one of the bonds. He said this would leave $4,000 to be met and that the amount necessary to meet the increased wages and expenses of operation of the water works could easily be figured up and added to this $4,000 and the amount of increased rates determined. He said that the increased rates fall heaviest upon the poor people and that many will quit sprinkling if the rate is boosted to $5 and will let their lawns dry up. He said he did not believe it could be shown where as high a rate is needed as Mr. Blinn is asking for. He pointed out that the present revenue of the water works department is about $35,000 per year and that even a 30 per cent increase would mean an additional revenue of $10,500. He said the city should probably have a little surplus in the fund but not a large surplus as the new pump will supply plenty of water for several years. He asked why the present generation should lay up a surplus for the future and expressed the opinion that the next generation should bear its share of the burden. He said he did not want to fall out with Mr. Blinn but that he thought a statement is due the public showing that the increased rate is justified.

Service Director Blinn said he thought it an admirable idea and that the only reason he had not made a more detailed statement was because he did not wish to appear to be trying to make himself too prominent before the public. He said he would make a statement to council or direct to the newspaper. He said he wanted the good will of the people. Pres. Norris then requested Mr. Blinn to make the statement direct to the council, showing the "whys and wherefores" of the new rates. Solicitor Klein said he did not believe the utilities commission has authority to regulate rates of municipally owned plants. Dr. Davis said E. S. Gummer of the sinking fund trustees had promised to make a statement in the paper with reference to taxes and the city's income, etc., showing that while labor and material have greatly advanced the city is not getting any more revenue. Dr. Davis suggested that the sinking fund trustees be requested to make a statement.

At the opening of the council meeting, Councilman John McMan reported that the street committee had decided to turn down the Vine-st crossing over the Wheeling & Lake Erie tracks for the present, owing to the city's financial condition. He said the committee felt that the people could get along without it for a while until the financial condition improves. A resolution was passed transferring $4,824.88 from the pump fund to the water works fund, this balance being left after paying in full for the new pump. An ordinance was passed to levy special assessments for the South Side sewer. The rate is 92 cents per front foot. Solicitor Klein stated that he anticipated that most of the property owners will pay their assessments in cash, as only a few will have to pay more than $50, and a bond issue may not be necessary. An ordinance was passed amending the ordinance providing for the number of employees and fixing the salaries in the water works department so as to read "Two or more operating engineers" instead of "two operating engineers" and the word "fireman" to the words "fireman and other". It was explained that the new chief engineer at the plant desires to hold the extra man at the plant for about three months until the chief engineer can make certain repairs and familiarize himself with the lines, etc.

The council voted to accept the deed made by Katherine Johnston for a triangular strip of ground extending fifty feet from the intersection of Burt-av and Eighth-st, the arrangements having been made by the former council last fall before the two streets were paved. The ordinance specifies that the ground shall be used for park purposes only and that no building shall be erected on it. The city may, if it desires, construct a curb but no sidewalk between this piece of ground and Miss Johnston's property. The ordinance to accept the ground is to be passed at the next council meeting.

The form for the questionnaires to be mailed out this week to patrons of the hot water heating system was decided upon by the council. The post cards will bear this question: "Up to 35 cents per square foot how much are you willing to pay for hot water heat the coming year rather than have the heating system abandoned?" A space for remarks will be left underneath. It was decided to make the question brief and pointed rather than ask a number of questions such as "Are you willing to pay an increased rate based on the cost of operation?" "Would you prefer to have the rate fixed from year to year?" "Would you prefer to have the rate fixed for a term of years?" "Would you prefer that the Ohio Service company abandon its heating system and surrender its charter?" Councilman Pitch moved the adoption of the short form and this was agreed upon. In the absence of Adolph Sahling, chairman of the heat rate committee, Dr. W. R. Davis is to turn the copy over to the printer and supervise the mailing out of the questionnaires. The answers are to be in by July 23.

Mayor Tish's report for the six months ending July 1 was read, showing that the total amount collected from fines, permits and licenses for the six months was $1,109.01 and the total amount of fines and costs in state cases turned into the county treasury was $406. Councilman Sahling was excused for absence by vote of the council.
